

Soekris case modding

Yes you can case mod a Soekris, but why!

I did it because I use my Soekris systems in courses and always have to open the case to show off the nice hardware.

Now I dont have to do that anymore.

I got a Dremel for my birthday, which is the second reason - the first reason actually came later ;-)

I just cut out enough to place a window and then I added a blue light inside, in parallel with the outside power.
